

We can always talk about being safe online

no shame

no blame

In our family, anything that is worrying us online can be discussed without shame or blame.

We can talk openly about:

- Safe and unsafe situations and people
- How we behave with others online
- What we see online and how it makes us feel
- Where to get help if we need it

